

ALEX YOUNG (Everton's Golden Vision)

Former Everton & Scotland Centre - Forward

Dedicated to a Naturally Gifted Entertainer

A shy, blonde, Loanhead mining lad, Quiet and Elusive as a Pixie.
Left Hearts and moved to Everton in November, Nineteen Sixty.
Evertonians called him 'Golden Vision', the Blue Idol of Merseyside.
eXtreme Hysteria followed him, which he modestly brushed aside.
You saw Defences quite bewildered, as his Skill they tried to quell.
Once he turned his Magic on, they were cast beneath his Spell.
Understanding with Roy Vernon, had to be seen, to be believed.
Nonchalant, clever passing moves, created chances, well received.
Goodison was his Theatre, the Audience applauded Every Touch.
Everton's League and Cup success, his Contribution was so much.
Great players are well remembered, their Praises rightly, often sung.
Very few deserved those Plaudits more, than Everton's Alex Young.

Copyright - John McEwan - Everton Poet